Together We Can Prevent the Sexual Abuse of Children

Now! NEWS

April 2012

Join our FREE April webinar on Children's Sexual Behavior

This webcast covers how to determine whether sexual behaviors in children are age-appropriate and how to respond to behaviors that are outside of what you would expect to see in children of various ages. The focus is on pre-pubescent children.

It is particularly appropriate for professionals who work with families or children, including child care providers, home visitors, teachers, and staff of youth serving organizations.

How Understanding and Responding to Sexual Behaviors Can Prevent Child Sexual Abuse
